

Maymester 2020

Gender and Pronouns

Dr. Jennifer E. Arnold

PSYC 490

May 13-29, 2020, M-F 9:00am-12:15pm

No pre-requisites

Pronouns have recently gained attention as a tool for talking about gender. This course uses both cognitive and social approaches to understand how we use pronouns and their function in society.

Topics:

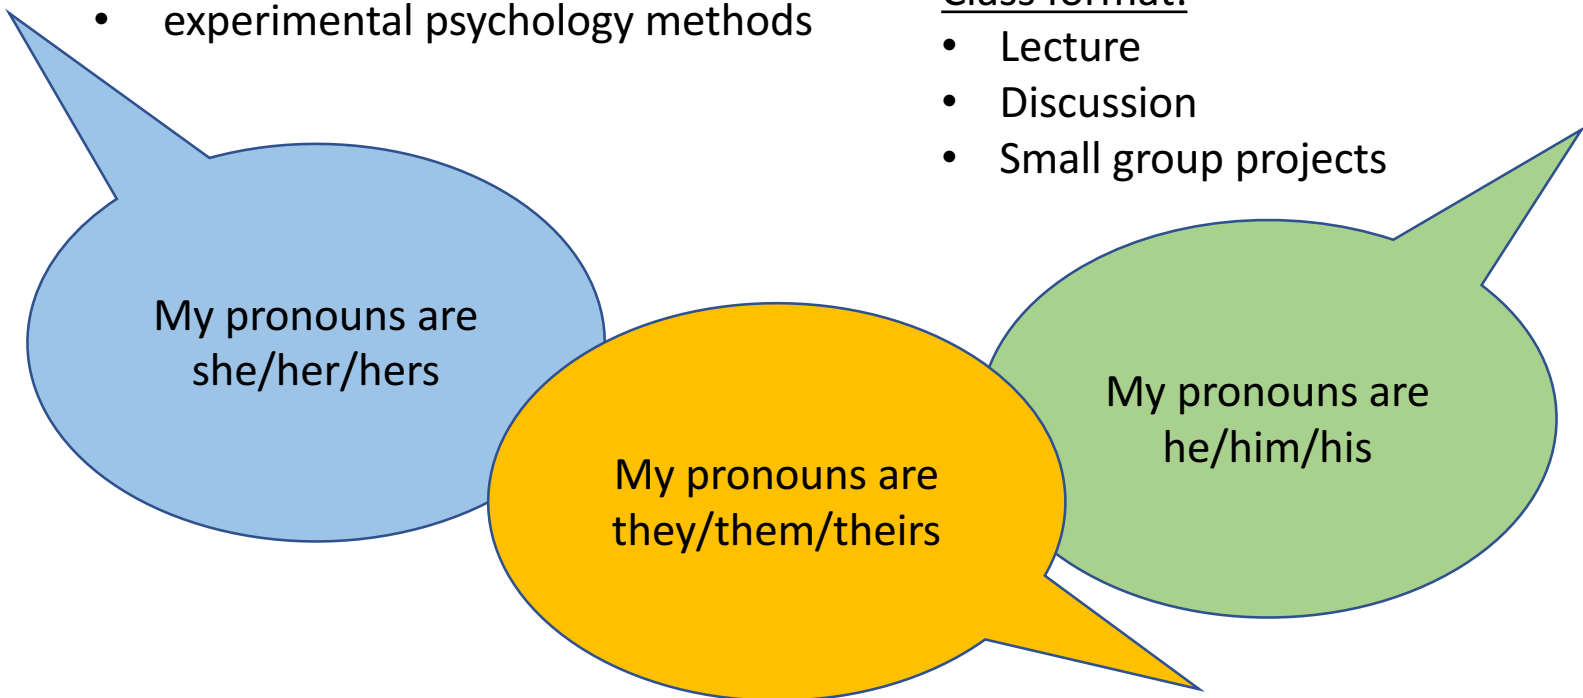

- gender theory
- concepts and categories
- pronoun comprehension
- language as a political tool
- experimental psychology methods

Course assignments:

- Readings
- Thought Papers
- Group Survey project

Class format:

- Lecture
- Discussion
- Small group projects

My pronouns are
she/her/hers

My pronouns are
they/them/theirs

My pronouns are
he/him/his